

Sage CRM Builder

Sage CRM Builder is a powerful and flexible tool that allows you to personalize and transform how Sage CRM is used within your company.

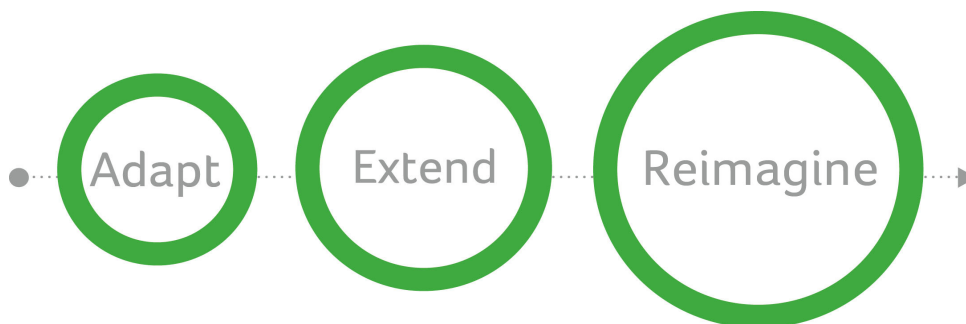

Sage CRM Builder is simple and easy to use. It lets you adapt Sage CRM to suit your unique business needs by creating business modules to manage any area of your business, not just customer relationships.

Adapt CRM to your business needs

As your business grows, you need to find ways of managing key activities and improving processes for maximum efficiency. Sage CRM is the ideal tool for you. Using Sage CRM Builder, you can easily create a new business module to manage any area of your business. For example a new module can help you plan events, organize training courses, track competitors, manage products and equipment, oversee and implement key business projects, and much more.

Building a new business module is simple, making it easy for you to change Sage CRM to work for your team on a cost-efficient and flexible basis. If your business model changes in the future, you can easily modify Sage CRM or simply add a new module to suit your change in requirements. This enables you to take maximum advantage of new opportunities as they arise.
